The names of Canada's territorial capitals are not known as well as the provincial capital cities. Everyone knows that Ottawa is the capital city of Canada. At our college, we ran a survey to see if students knew the capital cities of Canada's territories. Do you know if Iqaluit or Nunavut is the capital city of Canada's youngest territory? In our poll, many students did not know if Yellowknife, Northwest Territories was the capital city name. Finally, only 25% of students knew which of Whitehorse or Yukon was the capital city the western most territory.
